SULZER GUARDED BY WIFE; REPORTED NEAR COLLAPSE; PINS LAST HOPE ON JUDGES

Albany Hears More Talk of Resignation If He Loses
All Legal Points.

FOES MIGHT BLOCK IT.

Law Provides That Resignation of Executive Must Be Accepted by Legislature.

ALBANY, Sept. 20.—The physical condition of William Sulzer, impeached Governor of the State, is causing worry.
He is probably nearer a complete breakdown than ever before in his long political career.

Despite the reassuring declarations of those closest to him and the indignant declarations of his intimates that he never was in as good shape, it developed to-day that he is really far from a well man. He is not under the care of a doctor, but he has been persuaded to remain quietly at the People's House under the watchful eye of Mrs. Sulzer, until his attorneys have exhausted all of the technicalities through which they have faint hope of crushing the case against him.

Then he may go to the impeachment court and dramatically become the chief figure of his own trial. If he should do this it will be against the earnest protests of his chief counsel, who insist that to the very end of the drama of politics vengeance shall go on without the presence of the actor cast by Tammany Hall for the star role.

SULZER'S ATTORNEYS IN CON-FERENCE AT ALBANY.

The Sulzer attorneys were in close consultation here to-day while most of the prosecutors had gone back home.
The camp followers of the Governor forsook certain defeat in his present condition that the Assembly did not have the power to impeach him in an extra session.

But they have a technicality left and it is the one on which they are hopeful they will be able to line up the majority of the Judges of the Court of Appeals on their side. That is whether an official can be tried for "high crimes and misdemeanors" when the alleged offenses were committed prior to his taking the oath of office.

The Sulzer attorneys are on this question alone a unit. And they are hopeful that the court will take their way of thinking and decide that because of that fact Sulzer cannot be tried on the articles of impeachment now before it.

But they admit that they have little hope that they can gain anything other than a technical victory in this way.
They would accept a favorable verdict from a majority of the Judges of the Court of Appeals as a strong point in their favor. A majority of the Senators, they believe, would vote against this contention, but the Judges who voted for it would be depended on, when the final question of guilt or innocence was pending, to refuse to convict on that technical ground and thus prevent a two-thirds vote of ouster.

MIGHT NOT BE ABLE TO RESIGN HIS OFFICE.

Despite the widespread circulation of the rumor that Sulzer contemplates resigning should his lawyers lose out on all of the technical points they have raised to impede an outcome on the actual charges, friends of the elected Governor still insist that he would not do so but would stand or fall on the verdict of the Court.

It has been learned that under the Public Officers law the mere filing of his resignation with the Secretary of State would not automatically remove him from office.
The law compels a Governor or a Senator to resign to the Legislature and that body may accept and certify the acceptance to the Secretary of State. There are many members of the Legislature who assert that under no circumstances would they accept any such resignation.

POLICE CAVALRY ESCORTS GAYNOR'S BODY TO CITY HALL

Thousands Line Streets as Funeral Procession Moves Through Brooklyn.

BRIEF SERVICE AT HOUSE.

Rector in Eulogy Declares Jews of City Will Erect Monument to Mayor.

After the reading of a brief funeral service over the body of former Mayor William J. Gaynor at his home, No. 30 Eighth avenue, Brooklyn, this afternoon at 2 o'clock, the body was brought to the City Hall to lie in state until the public funeral on Monday.

A police escort, and the committee which included all the heads of City Departments under the Gaynor administration, and some of the members of the bench of the various city and county courts, accompanied the body from Brooklyn to the City Hall.

The short procession of automobiles, with the police guard about the motor hearse and in front and behind passed quietly through Eighth avenue to Flatbush avenue, to Schermerhorn street, to Court street to Jerusalem street to Clinton street to Liberty street to the Bridges, following the route often used by the Mayor in walking from his home to the City Hall.

Hundreds of those who had been accustomed to see the Mayor on these walks and who had exchanged friendly greetings with him were among those who lined the route along the way.
There was no great crowding about the Gaynor home during the funeral. Police Captain Hayes kept Eighth avenue entirely cleared. There were several thousand persons standing at each end of the closed space when the flag-draped casket was brought down the steps by the same five firemen and policemen who acted as pallbearers yesterday.

COMMITTEE IN AUTOMOBILES AWAITS FUNERAL PROCESSION.

The committee, which was seated waiting at the Montauk Club, was seen in automobiles. The police cavalry swung into line evenly and the procession started without even the sound of a command reaching the uncovered throngs at the end of the police lines.

The funeral at the Gaynor home was

BRYAN MADE $6,500 ON HIS LECTURES; STILL SHY $1,500

Needed $8,000 to Add to $12,- 000 Salary, as $20,000 Income to Meet Expenses.

WINDS UP HIS SEASON

But He Will Go On Giving Platform Talks Whenever Disposed, Despite Criticism.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Secretary Bryan will conclude his Chau-taucus lectures for the season to-night with an address at Warrenton, Va.

Mr. Bryan announced to-day that his lectures had netted him about $6,500.
As he needed $8,000 to add to his $12,- 000 salary to fill out his income of $20,000, which he says is necessary to meet his yearly living expenses, the Secretary of State is still shy $1,500.

"This evening is the last of the Chau-taucus lectures for this season. The termination of his engagements, announced that he would continue to lecture as long as he remained Secretary of State whenever he felt there was proper occasion and a desire to do so.

GIVES SOME DETAILS OF HIS EARNINGS AND EXPENSES.

Mr. Bryan issued this statement:
"This evening is the last of the Chau-taucus lectures for this season. The total income from Chautaucaus lectures this year is a little over $7,000, the net receipts after taking out the necessary expenses are something over $6,500. The number of whole week days which have been used for the lectures is, according to my recollection, seven. The reminder of the lectures have been delivered at places near enough to this city to leave in the afternoon, sometimes as late as 10 o'clock.

"I would not assume that the public was interested in these details were it not for the fact that the representatives of a few newspapers have regarded it as a matter of great importance."

When Mr. Bryan was asked if he would lecture any more during his connection with the State Department, he replied:

"I expect to lecture whenever I deem it advisable or necessary to do so, and have retained the lease after the plans which were made at the time I assumed the duties of the office. The criticism that has been directed against my lecturing is no more bitter than the criticism I have undergone at other times and for other things during my connection with politics.

"A part of this criticism is malicious, a part of it is partisan and a part of it is based upon misinformation. That which is malicious will answer itself; that which is partisan will be accepted as such; that which is based upon misinformation of the facts will be corrected as better informed."

"No man should enter public life if he objects to criticism and he cannot stay in public life if he permits criticisms to turn him from doing what he thinks is right. He must decide his duty for himself and is answerable to the public for any mistakes he makes.

"I regard my lecturing as an entirely legitimate field. I lectured before I was nominated for the Presidency; I lectured between campaigns; I shall continue to lecture, and I shall not believe that any person whose opinion is worth having will think the less of me because I do so. This closes the lecture subject for the present."

WORLD'S GOLF TITLE WON BY 20-YEAR-OLD AMATEUR

Quimet of Boston Defeats Vardon and Ray, England's Best.

FIVE UP AT FINISH.

New Champion Comes From Behind and Outgames and Outgenerals Veterans.

(Special to The Evening World)

COUNTRY CLUB, BROOKLINE, Mass., Sept. 20.—Francis Ouimet of Massachusetts, a twenty-year-old amateur, outplayed and outgamed Harry Vardon and Edward Ray of England today when he won the play-off for the nineteenth open golf title of the United States. Both Englishmen before this morning were the greatest players in the world, but young Ouimet made them look like novices, forcing the 23-year-old Ray to collapse at the 16th hole and Harry Vardon at the 17th.

Ouimet's feat of coming from behind on the final day for a triple tie and then winning the playoff has never been duplicated by either professional or amateur in any country. It was a victory over all of our golfers and placing this country in the front rank of the world's greatest golfing nations.

"OUIMET AND THE ENGLISHMEN AND THEY ARE OURS."

The scenes attending the match were historical. Heavy rains failed to stop a gallery of 5,000 from according Francis Ouimet the most affectionate reception ever given a golfer and few other heroes in this country.

Practically winning the match at the seventeenth hole, the crowd stretched out for a quarter of a mile, surrounded the honor where Ouimet, with bared head made the final shot that saved the cup. The crowd, frantic with joy, brushed past the officials and carried the victor to the clubhouse porch, where hundreds climbed trees to get a peep at the latest sensation.

Robert Watson started a speech, but it was quickly drowned out by the cheering and the ringing of bells and tolling of automobile horns.

During the match Ouimet was never headed and his wonderful nerve never deserted him. He first passed the foreigners when he led Edward Ray at the 14th hole. Ray pulled out over the turn, but toward the finish neither Englishman could stand the pace of the youngster. Ray falling to pieces at the 15th hole and Vardon at the 17th.

TRAVERS PAYS TRIBUTE TO NEW CHAMPION.

Jerome D. Travers, national amateur champion, was an interested spectator of the sensational match, and his version, that Ouimet's showing was the greatest exhibition ever known, best fits the victor's work.

Ouimet, who had only played in one other national event, and only half the age of the foreigners, was forced to beat Vardon and Ray, who have held five championships of Great Britain, and he did it so decisively that England can raise no claim of a duke.

A general celebration lasted for an hour after the final. Quiet was finally restored and Francis Ouimet was induced to say that he did his level best to keep the cup in this country and was thankful he succeeded.

John Reid, son of the founder of golf in this country, presented Ouimet with a handsome gold medal emblematic of the highest honor in the land. The United States Golf Club goes to Woodland, Ouimet's club.

$300 GOLD PLATE TO WINNER OF THE GOLF TITLE.

Reid asked the happy Woodland officials that they see that Ouimet continue his wonderful playing. As an extra prize winner Ouimet was presented with gold plate valued at $300.

Harry Vardon received a check for $150 and Edward Ray one for $100.
Both Englishmen made the best of defeat. Harry Vardon to an Evening World reporter said his defeat was the greatest surprise of his life.

"After beating McEldermott and other American champions," said Vardon, "we thought we had the cup safe. We never dreamed of anyone like Ouimet coming from behind and finally winning.
I warmly congratulate Mr. Ouimet and his friends."

Francis Ouimet, world's champion of golf, is an amateur, and was twenty years old last May. He was born of French-Canadian parents in Brookline, and lives there now, right across the street from the sixteenth hole. He began carrying clubs when he was ten years old, between school hours. He has been out of school only a year or two, and is at present employed by a Boston firm.

Schmidt Declares the District-Attor-

A search of the records of the Health Department is under way to determine if Hans Schmidt, the murderer of Anna Aumueller, succeeded in putting through any of the death certificates he admits he intended to use in a series of murders. Although Schmidt says he planned to kill only cripples and incurables, the police are inclined to believe, from the evidence at hand, that his real object was to seek out wealthy aged invalids, gain their confidence as a priest, get them to surrender their property and then put them out of the way.

GIRL MARRIED GIRL KNOWING THAT "HE" WAS NOT A MAN

Anna Slifka and "Jack Hill" Startle Meeker, Col., by Their Strange Union.

MEEKER, Col., Sept. 20.—"Handsome Jack Hill," who for two years has been the ideal of masculinity in the eyes of the young women of Meeker and who was known to the men as "the chap who married the prettiest girl in the White River country, is a woman.

The case was made today and she was bound over to the October term of the District Court, charged with impersonating a man.

"Miss Anna Slifka, whom the good looking 'Jack Hill' married, today supplemented her 'husband's' confession with one in which she stated that she knew before the 'marriage' that 'her husband' name was Helen Hainstead, and that the two planned the affair so that they might work together in earning money to pay their way through college."

Two years ago Helen Hainstead arrived here attired as a man. "He" quickly became the beau of the town, courting many, but finally centering "his" attentions on Miss Slifka. The latter's brother, recently become suspicious, and started an investigation which resulted in revealing the "marriage." Identify.

"I dressed in boy's clothing and came West because I wanted to work my way through college," Hainstead Jack said today. "A working girl hasn't any chance in the West and I thought I could dress like a man and get work on a ranch in the West where I could earn enough to draw a college wage, to start me in a good school."

Cigar Clerk Missing, So Is Cash.

and Clerk John V. McTee were missing. The clerk is twenty-five years old and lives at No. 136 East Forty-eighth street. The case was reported to Capt. Ivers of the West Forty-seventh street station, and the police are now looking for the missing clerk.
